STEWARDSHIP BY THE BOOK

In the Gospel today, Jesus warns us not to give in to hopes of repayment, but to give openhandedly to the poor and needy. That sort of giving mirrors the bountiful giving of God, and Jesus assures us it is blessed indeed!

Your attendance at Mass constitutes your consent to these recordings, and to the use of the recordings by the church for public communications, social media, evangelization, and other business or religious purposes. STEWARDSHIP

POTENTIAL

A STEWARDSHIP MOMENT

In today's Gospel, Jesus challenged the social structure of the Pharisees and teaches his hosts and their guests some profound lessons in humility. Pharisees maintained deep social divisions between who they considered "holy" and "unholy," rich and poor, honored and despised. They didn't invite someone to a banquet or dinner who couldn't reciprocate. And the lowly, the poor, the crippled, the lame and the blind had no capacity to reciprocate. Good stewards realize that if they embrace a humility that allows them to be generous to those who cannot repay them, they give evidence of having the kind of heart that will enjoy the Lord's intimate friendship. This week let's reflect on our attitude towards those who cannot repay our generosity. What is the extent of our hospitality toward others? Are we generous with those who cannot repay us?

STEWARD OF THE WEEK

Nancy LaSelva

The Adopt A Parking Lot Island Ministry would like to thank Nancy for creating and taking care of the Adoration islands. She did a fantastic job creating and furnishing it!

Thank you for being a faithful steward!

New Parishioners:

Ed Maher

Baptisms:

Sienna Mitchell

Charles Powers

Today's readings remind us of a chief virtue that characterizes the Christian steward: humility. This is a virtue that is widely thought of as a form of self-abasement. That understanding, however, is off the mark. Humility is simply the awareness of who (and Whose) we truly are.

On one hand, we are children of the Most High God who loved us into existence and who, by virtue of our Baptism, have the Holy Trinity dwelling within us. On the other hand, we are children who are completely dependent on God for our existence and for every breath we take.

Our Lord speaks of true humility in our Gospel passage from Luke, telling the parable of the guests invited to a wedding banquet and instructing us not to seek a place of honor at the banquet table, lest a more distinguished guest arrives and we are asked to move to a lower place.

Jesus has much more in mind here than an etiquette lesson. He is reminding us that all glory belongs to God. The visual image He offers in having to slink down to a lower seat at the table points out how silly we are when we forget to give God the credit for our blessings and talents.

On the other hand, when we live in humility — recognizing that all we have is a gift from God and using those gifts to serve Him and others — then God "exalts" us by filling us with even more of Himself and His grace.

Jesus goes on to encourage us to serve and share our blessings with people facing circumstances that would make it impossible for them to offer us any worldly advantage or prestige — "the poor, the crippled, the lame."

Our attitude and how we serve and share should be centered on true humility — recognizing that we are all "little" ones in the eyes of God. We are all His children; brothers and sisters invited to our Father's heavenly banquet.

Sunday, September 7th— Join us for a special Life Night series on the Mass, where we will learn about its importance in our lives as Christians, as well as get trained on how to serve in the Mass. If you are a student who has wanted to know more about altar serving, ushering, sacristan ministry, and more, please come to this special event. Everything begins in King of Kings, and ends in the church.

Orphans in Uganda

St. Mary’s orphanage that our sister parish in Uganda owns, now has 87 orphans. We have built or are building an added dormitory. The orphans are well taken care of. They have good food and medical care. They all go to one of our local schools. Each orphan gets the same opportunity to get an education and a career. Actually a few have already graduated from college or university.

The cost for us for food and school fees for each orphan is still only $250 per year.

But also we have close to 100 more orphans who are being cared for by relatives and attend one of our village schools. The families cannot afford the school fees. Each of those orphans cost the same amount—$250—per year.

If you are in a position to sponsor an orphan for this year—make your check out to “Blessed Trinity” and mark it for “Uganda Orphans.”

Thanks

School Tours In Uganda

Most all of our Catholic schools we have built in 22 villages in our sister parish are in the “bush.” Apart from school and church, the families have no means to go beyond that—no transportation, etc.—except when we come once a year when they are exposed to a world beyond their village.

When I was on my annual tour of the village churches and schools this year I quickly realized there was something new a foot. Word had spread from one school to another that an annual school tour might be possible. Each of the 22 schools included in their list of requests, a budget for a school tour for P6 & P7 students. The cost varied from $1,900 to $2,200 per tour. The money would pay the bus and driver, two meals for approximately 75 students and a few teachers and would allow them to visit the River Nile, go to the zoo, and visit Entebbe Airport, etc.

I told them I would present their request to our people at Blessed Trinity Ocala but I could not favor one school above another. If you would like to sponsor a school tour for these students in the bush, for $2,000, it will be a thrill of a life time for them. If you want to name the school that is fine. We will see what results we get and then decide when we can go ahead and fulfill their school tour requests.

Adult Catholic Inquiry Class

The weekly inquiry class begins at 6:30pmon Wednesday, September 3rd in the chapel (cry room) in church.

Any adult (18 & over) can attend. It is for Catholics who need a fresh look at our Catholic faith; for adults who are baptized Catholics but never received confirmation (or 1st communion); for interested adults who are looking into becoming Catholic or who have spouses who are Catholic and they want to learn more about the Catholic faith.

The course is free. You will receive two readable books on the teachings of our faith. You do not need to register in advance. Just come and sign in and check your name off each week.

Book Signing

Inspired by my 4th grade granddaughter, I embarked on a 300-mile journey from Ocala to Miami on foot!

That 9-day trek is re-enacted with all the insights, agony, and spiritual wisdom in the recently published book: Go Papa, Go! It’s just 300 miles—on Foot! By Glen Owen. I accomplished this feat at age 63, and raised $5,000 for charity in the process.

To continue my philanthropy, a book signing will be staged after all the weekend Masses September 6/7, 2025.

The book is on sale for $20 and a portion of the proceeds will be donated to our sister school.

Come to Mass—Sign Out

Remember, all students preparing for First Communion and Confirmation need to pick up a sheet, found under the bulletins, and have the priest or deacon sign it every weekend.

Come to Mass first and then bring your paper to be signed. Give that signed paper to your teacher each week.

This is a very special year of preparation for you and your entire family. If you prepare well then receiving First Communion or Confirmation will make a very positive, spiritual impact on your entire future.

St. Peregrine Mass

Please join us in praying for a cure for cancer. The monthly devotional Mass to St. Peregrine, the patron saint of cancer patients, will be Thursday, September 5, at the 5:30pm Mass.

Christ and the Spirituality of Work

On the first Monday of September, the U.S. observes Labor Day, a celebration of the strength and contributions of the nation’s work force. The holiday goes back many years. Congress passed an act establishing it in 1894, and it was promoted by labor unions as they grew in power. Labor unions have experienced a decline in recent years, but their ascendancy in late 19th century and early 20th century America contributed to a growing middle class and safer working conditions for all.

For many Americans, Labor Day weekend is a celebration of summer’s finale, a last hurrah of cook-outs and recreation before vacation time ends and the reality of school, parish committees and snow shovel sales looms. But for the Christian steward, Labor Day should also be a time to pause and reflect on our own work, the work of others in our economy, and what it means for our spiritual growth and the growth of the Kingdom of God.

Work isn’t separated from our spirituality, but should be a conscious part of it. The Lectionary even provides special readings for Labor Day, and one of them is from Colossians 1:24-2:3 in which St. Paul describes the source of his strength as Christ’s “power working within me.” Paul is able to achieve his tremendous effort by his reliance on Christ. And his endeavors were tied to his desire to serve Christ in all things. Does this ring true for our own working environment? Does Christ occupy a place in our workday, in the marketplace? Or do we sometimes feel a disconnect, as if our faith is compartmentalized into another realm of our life, not integral to our work life?

If our work feels lifeless and without purpose, do we consider our need to strengthen our relationship with Christ by our labor? As we enjoy summer’s final fling, keep in mind that laborers should be partners in the work of God on this earth, and ask, how does my work fit into God’s plan?

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON FALL BIBLE STUDY EPIC: A JOURNEY THROUGH CHURCH HISTORY

Currently there is a lot of interest in personal and family history but how much do we really know about the history of the church family we belong to? As Catholics we are heirs of those who for 2000 years have built a great civilization and spread the Gospel throughout the world. EPIC is a 20-session story of adventure, intrigue, rebellion, reform, and devotion as well as popes, people, places, and the truth of events like the Crusades, Protestant Reformation, Inquisition, ongoing persecution of Christians, and the working of the Holy Spirit throughout..

Please join us. We meet from 3:15 to 5.p.m. Wednesdays at the Knights of Columbus Hall at Blessed Trinity. No materials are required. Newcomers are most welcome. For more information call or text Laurel Wilson 352-426-2328 or email laurelwilson40@aol.com...Or just show up on the first day, September 10!
